Battle Was Decided on Its Merits Echoes of Great Featherweight Contest. Cnairman B. B. Odell of the Republican State Committee went to the McGovern-Dixon aperring exhibition on Tuesday night to see a should be repealed. Mr. Odell's sentiment was echoed by all of his subordinates at Republican Headquarters, and by Police Commissioner

Hess, who has not always been in full accord with the organization. I will exert all of my influence to get this law off the books," said Mr. Odell to a reporter who called on him yesterday morning. The reporter inquired if Mr. Odell was opposed to

"Brutality!" said Mr. Odell. "No. Why, it permits 'fakes.' That's the reason I think it hould be repealed. The fights are 'fixed' beforehand and the spectators are humbugged. Take that fight last evening. I went to the club to see it and it was a fake all through. Dixon could have won easily, but the betting was the other way, and Dixon had to work pard to get licked. I never saw such a farce. e negro could have won at any time. I was gusted with the whole exhibition."

Well, the brutality," said the reporter. Brutal nothing," said Mr. Odell. "It was a ake, and when I deft the club I was satisfied that the law which permitted such things should be repealed."

Police Commissioner Hess said last evening that he was of the same opinion as Chairman Odell. Capt. Joseph Dickey, United States Shipping Commissioner, who witnessed the Soht with Mr. Odell, shares his views. It could not be learned authentically last evening how Republican money was placed on the fight, but Mr. Odell thought Dixon ought to Sporting men who lost thousands of dollars on Dixon's defeat were unanimous last night in declaring that McGovern won honestly and fairly. Many of them ridiculed Chairman Odeli's charges, while others were quite sure that he was only jesting. George Considine. Manager of the Broadway A. C., said: "If there had been anything wrong with the fight. I am quite sure that veteran ring followers in that big crowd would have detected it.

There wasn't a word of complaint from anybody during or directly after the battle. People who attend sporting events are somewhat skeptical and I'm positive that if the crowd had believed that McGovern and Dixon were indulging in a fake there would have been a small sized riot in the building. The Broadway Club is a prosperous organization. We have hitherto enjoyed the confidence of the public, or we would have been compelled to close up. Men who know the fighting game cannot be made to believe that anything was wrong. McGovern won fairly and squarely. I backed Dixon myself, but am not grumbling over my losses. Dixon's honorable career in the ring is proof enough that he was not a party to any alleged

It is a matter of fact that several days before the fight McGovern and his several days octors the fight McGovern and his manager, Sam Harris, called upon Senator Tim Sullivan, who is interested in the Broadway Club, and asked him to assure them that they would receive fair play. Sullivan told them that they would be protected by the referee, and that if McGovern could demonstrate his superiority over Dixon, he would have no trouble in winning.

he would have no trouble in winning.

A reporter of The Sux interviewed several experts on puglissm last night and they all experts on puglissm that Dixon should be charged expects on pugilism last night and they all expressed surprise that Dixon should be charged with losing his laurels in an illegitimate way. Referee White, who was in a position to scent the least sign of a "fike," said:

"I will stake my life and reputation that the battle was on the level. I never saw anybody in the ring with a firmer desire to keep his honors than did little George Dixon. He tried all he knew how. He put all the force at his command in his blows, and he seemed to be bitterly disappointed when his knocks falied to made an impression Dixon is the squarest boxer in the world. He is always out to win, and it is unjust to him as it is to McGovern to try and throw cold water on a well-carned, hard-lought victory. It was the body blows which wore Dixon down, McGovern seemed to be much perturbed that he should be accused of participating in a combat that was not lought in an honest fashion. He bit his lips with palpable anger after he read what Chairman Odell had to say and then declared:

"How is it that after every fight I have some Prople raise a hue andery that I won because it was a prearranged thing. Do you know that such comments tend to annoy and embarrass it man? Tom O'Rourke said that Chairman Odell's statements were uncalled for. "I don't know Mr. Odell and I really believe that he did not say the fight was a Take," said Tom firmly. "People from all over the country were there and they all went away pleased. Dixon was too old and did not have the stamina to withstand such a young and robust lad as is McGovern. Dixon never has included in anything crooked in his career and would rather cut his finger off than to have lost last night. He wanted to retire unbeaten, but all there is to it he met a better man."

"Honest" John Kelly, who bet on McGovern and who has witnessed fights of importance all over the country, said: "Was it a take? Certainly not. It was a great contest and Dixon met his match. Perhaps Mr. Odell is prejudiced and is only an amateur at the game. If he had my experience as a patron of the prizering he would have complimented himself on the way the battle was fought.

between little fellows ever held "I never enjoyed myself more hugely," he said, "and although I lost my money I have no complaints to make. All this 'knocking' won't do any good. The boxing law is a fine thing for the community, as attested last night. It brings money to New York and makes business. At a rough estimate I should judge over $50,000 was spent by strangers who came East to see the fight and were well repaid for their visit." Jim C rbett was surprised that there should be any doubt that the bartle was not decided on its merits. He said: "All my friends who saw the fight were well pleased. Some of Billy Edwards's opinion was: "I have attended all puglistic events of importance for the past twenty years and can cheerfully say that I never enjoyed myself better than I did last night. Dixon tried all in his power to win, but he was up against a lad who had the advantage of youth and strength. There was no fake about it and the idea that the mill was crooked is absurd in the extreme. I am sorry that Mr. Odell thinks to the contrary."

Jimmy Wakely cannot imagine why the impression should get ground that the battle was not fought legitimately. He said: "I never as a rule visit the Broadway A. C. because I can not find time. But I went last night and was thoroughly entertained. I said McGovern would win all along and he did. All there is to it, Dixon met his master and fought the best he knew how."

ture has in store for me I don't know. I think that I will be taken care of. I don't owe anybody a penny in the world and have always fought on the level."

That Dixon's record as the champion in the past is not to be quickly overlooked is shown by the desire on the part of his admirers to contribute to his benefit, which is to be held soon in this city. A subscription list, which was started on Tuesday night by Senator McCarren, who gave $2,500, was increased yesterday by additional contributions. Those who donated were:

Terry McGovern, $250; Sam Harris, $250; "Par son" Davies, $250; Johnny White, who was referee on Tuesday night, $50; Joe Macias, $50; John Bitt-ner, $50; Nat Goodwin, $100; Marky Meyer, $100; Jim Buckley, $10; John Sullivan, $10; C. T. O'Hars, $5, and Spike Sullivan, $10.

Jim Buckley, $10: John Sullivan, $10: C. T. O'Hars. $5. and Spike Sullivan, $10.

The latter also agreed to meet George McFadden over again at the Broadway A. C. for twenty-five rounds, and will let the entire receipts go to Dixon. Joe Walcott made a similar proposition. The rival puglists were paid off immediately after the fight. Dixon received $3,011, and McGovern $9,033. The entire receipts, according to O'Rourke, were $24,088.

McGovern says that he is going to take a much-noeded rest and go on the road with his company. He has now three matches scheduled. The first is with Oscar Gardner on March 2. Then he will meet Joe Bornstein on March 22 and afterward Ben Jordan at the National Sporting Club, London, on Derby night. Manager Harris says that he will try to have the date of the Gardner fight shifted several weeks in order to give Terry a chance to train. "I was glad that I did not knock Dixon out." Terry said yesterday, "because it would pain me to see such a game little fellow, who held the championship so long, put to sleep. He is a fair fighter and the best man I ever met. I will cheerfully box at his benefit and do all I can to help him."

One of the heaviest losers on the fight, outside of O'Rourke, was "Buck." Connolly of Pittsburg. He dropped about $3,800. Al Smith is probably the largest winner. He was for McGovern from the start and gathered, it is said, over $5,000.

main Open. A meeting was held last night between Billy Brady and George Considine and it was proposed to allow all bids for the Jeffries-Corett battle to remain open until Feb. 15, a month before the date set for the encounter. He has not decided as yet, he said, whether Tommy Ryan would be added to his corps of trainers.

Harvard Graduates Give $15,000 More To-

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 10,-Harvard graduates of New York have subscribed an additional $15 .-000 toward the construction of the university boathouse, which will bring the total cost of the new structure to $43,000. The entire amount has come from the same source. Work on the building will soon be commenced on a new set of plans. It will be built of brick with new set of plans. It will be built of brick with mill construction inside in order to lessen the destructive effect of fire. The foundations of the burned building will be used after a slight reenforcement has been made for sustaining the heavy walls. The building will not be ready for use this year.

The Weld Boat Club has received a new launch from George Walker Weld, founder of the club. It will replace the Frank Thomson, recently destroyed by fire, and will be like it in general appearance, but with greater speed. The launch will be ready by the middle of March and will be shipped from Morris Heights where it is building.

Regatta.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10 .- At a meeting of the University of Pennsylvania Faculty Committee on Athletics this afternoon the sending of a erew to Henley next summer was approved. If this idea is carried out it will necessitate placing two eights in the water. All of last year's second crew are back, except Bechtel and Atkin, so with the two missing from the 'Varsity, Hall and Busch, this makes only four vacancies to supply. The sending of the track team to the Olympic games in Paris was also approved, as was the meet with the Boston A. A at Boston, on Feb. 3 and joint exhibition by the gymnastic team with that of Princeton University.

BACQUETS. Standing Gives Six Aces a Game to Mil.

Bostow, Jan. 10. -The exhibition series of matches at court tennis and racquets, at the Boston A. A. was continued this afternoon, a special racquet contest between America's professional champion. George Standing, and Eustace H. Miles, the amateur court tennis champion of England, having been arranged by the committee. The announcement that the crack player of the New York Racquet and Tennis Club was going to play again and also that the English amateur was to make his first appearance here was sufficient to attract a much larger gathering of devotees of the pastime than yesterday, and as a resul little gallery was well crowded when play was called at 2:30 o'clock by Bill Pettit, the marker. Quincy A. Shaw, Jr., was the referee. It was recognized by both the committee and by Standing that Miles was not so expert at racquets as at court tennis, and, after a consultation between committee and players. the New York man conceded six aces to the Englishman to start with. It was agreed that the match should be the best three in five games. With such a heavy handleap as six uses it was felt that Standing would have a hard task to win, but he captured the first the match was decided, at Miles's request, fourth game was played, which the latter won after tying the score at "13 all" and setting th game to 18. Standing played superbly throughout the first three games, and having won the contest in the face of such odds, apparently grew careless in the fourth game. The score: FIRST GAME. Bids for the Jeffries-Corbett Fight to Re-SECOND GAME.

To-morrow's match will be at racquets between Peter Latham and George Standing, under the same conditions as when the two met in New York last week, that is the concession of three aces by the Englishman. Should the New York man defeat Latham again, it is not improbable that a purse contest will be arranged for them.

Vardon Will Play in Florida Tournaments -Col. Harding's Prizes.

This time Harry Vardon, the open golf champion of Great Britain, is undoubtedly coming to this country for a visit. He is scheduled to arrive within ten days and will go at once to Florida to play in exhibition matches, working his way northward during March and April to end the trip by playing in New York. Philadelphia and Boston. Will Smith, the American open champion, left for the South on Monday n company with George Low, the Dyker Meadow professional. They will play in the matches with Vardon. The playing here has not been stated, but it must be a considerable sum, for it is an open secret that he refused at least two flattering offers last year to come here. One offer was from a New York firm, and under it Vardon was to receive $2,000 for twenty matches, and all expenses raid. The second offer was from an amateur, the only condition being that his name should not be mentioned in the matter, who offered to Varidon $1,000 to come over for a month to play for whatever purses might be hung up for him at the various clubs.

Something new in winter golf has been introduced at the Fairview Park Golf Club at Bronxville. Round disks, rainted red, about a foot in diameter and numbered in accordance with the holes, have been passed in the ground away from the regular green and raised about six inches above the turf. The trick is to land the ball within three or four feet of the disks, and then with a quick, snappy shot, using the mashle or lofter, to pitch the ball so that it will strike the disk. The members find it good sport and better than putting on the temgood sport and better than putting on the tem-

Col. William J. Harding has presented as the prizes in a series of competitions at the Laurence Harbor Country Club two valuable art books consisting of engravings of the different masterpieces that have gained prominence in the most noted exhibitions throughout Europe. There will be six competitions, Feb. 22, March 24, April 28, May 28, June 23 and July 4. The contests will be at eighteen holes, medal play, the winner of each competition to receive five points, the second man three and the third one point. The player gaining the most points during the series will win the two volumes.

The series of the Florida East Coast Golf Club open amateur tournaments will begin two weeks earlier this year. The dates are as follows:

Nassau, N. P., March 1, 2, 3; Miami, March 8, 9, 10; Palin Beach, March 12, 26, 14, Ormond, March 16, 17, 18; St. Augustine, March 22, 23, 24.

Each tournament will begin with a thirty-six-hole preliminary medal round, with a cup for the best score, the first and second sixteens qualifying for match play for two cups, and there will be a handicap on the last day for a cup and the usual minor prizes.

St. Augustine, Jan. 10.—Robert C. Watson, Jr., of the Westbrook Club is here and commenced work by piling up two great scores. The first was made on the St. Augustine Club links. Clayton Dixon being his opponent. The latter went over the eighteen holes in 75. Watson going the round in 76. The second game between these two brilliant young players was on the Florida East Coast Club links. Watson finished in 83 and Dixon in 85. On the St. Augustine links both Watson and Dixon broke previous records. Last winter Watson covered the course in 77, which was not touched by any amateur until to-day, when he trimmed it down one stroke. Dixon shaved it down two. St. Augustine, Jan. 10.-Robert C. TURF OFFICIALS CONFER.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF N. T. A. AND A. T. A. MAGNATES IN THIS CITY. Closer Reciprocal Relations Between the

Two Organizations Are Needed—How to Prevent the Laving Up of Heats—Mov-ing the Distance Flag Is Favored. An important conference between officials of he National Trotting Association and the American Trotting Association took place yesterday at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The affair had not been publicly announced and few horsemen were aware that the men who control the two harness-racing leagues of the country were in town. In response to an invi-tation issued by Major P. P. Johnston of Lexington, President of the N. T. A., W., P. Ijams of Terre Haute, President of the A. T. A., and John H. Stiner of Chicago, Secretary of the A T. A., came here to represent the Western included, besides Major Joffnston, Vice-President David Bonner of this city. William Russeil Allen of St. Louis, ex-Gov. Morgan G. Bulkeley of Connecticut, George W. Archer of Rochester and Secretary W. H. Gocher of Hartford. The conference was held behind closed doors and the proceedings were informal, as the representatives of neither association were empowered to take any action binding the approaching congresses. President Johnston said to a reporter of THE SUN that the purpose of the meeting was to formulate if possible closer reciprocal relations between the two associations respecting the uniformity of harness-racing rules and the enforcement of penalties. A similar conference took place at the Fifth Avenue Hotel about seven years ago. At that time the delegates of the two associations formulated a scheme whereby the presidents of the N. T. A. and A. T.A. were designated as a standing committee to meet two days before the biennial congress of each association with the biennial congress of each association with a view to coming to an agreement as to all proposed amendments to the turf code. By this means it was expected that neither body would adopt any rule not acceptable to the other and that the uniformity of the turf code would thus be maintained. But the plan was found to be impracticable, as one association held its congress in Chicago while the other met in New York on or about the same date, making it impossible for the two presidents to get together at that time.

It is probable that the present conference will agree upon measures and recommendations will probably be that a driving club fixed for violation of the by-laws of one association shall be excluded from the others until restored to good standing in the association of which it was originally a member. Within a year or two the N. T. A. has penalized some of its members for failing to obey the by-laws, whereupon the driving clubs have withdrawn from the N. T. A. and joined the A. T. A., there being no way to keep them out of the fold.

Another matter which came up for consideration yesterday was the practice of laying up heats. How to prevent it is the question which has long been studied by horsemen everywhere. That the existing rules fall to meet the requirements of the situation is admitted by everybody in the horse world. President Jams, President Johnston and Secretary Stiner all favor the plan of moving the distance flag nearer to the wire and so making it impossible to lay up a horse in the barefaced manner now o common on nearly all the tracks where the Speedway.

The mounted policemen on the Speedway say they have received no notice of Park Commissioner Clausen's reported order excluding from the driveway all horses wearing hopples. They accordingly permitted the pacer Merritt Wilkes, 2:134, to run the gauntlet last Sunday with his logs tied together. Expert horsemen consider that hoppies are dangerous appliances to use on a horse driven at speed, and the H. F. A. has massed a rule intended to prohibit their use has bassed a rule intended to prombit their use in harness racing, owing to the repeated accidents which they have caused. Supt. John J. Quinn wants to see hoppled horses excluded from the Speedway. It is said that he may prefer harges against the next driver who uses them and in this way bring the matter to the attention of the Park Department for a ruling or an order.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 10.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of Rigby Park was held to-day. The annual roports showed the total disbursements to have been $38,957 during the year. The August stake races and circuit meeting were sufficient to pay purses, but losses were sustained on the July and September meetings. The bondholders who have received no interest since 1836 threaten to foreclose the mortgage and sell the track.

Annual Reports Show a Surplus of More

The various reports of the officers of the New York A. C. submitted at the annual meeting on Tuesday night show the organization to be in a flourishing condition and the details given in the Treasurer's report is evidence that the business of the club has largely increased during the past year. The balancethan $500,000.

Although the receipts of the restaurant were nearly $110,000, the business resulted in a loss of $19,988.57. The victualling department of the club never has paid, but the members are well satisfied if the profits of the bar offset the restaurant loss. This was the case last year, as $21,988.62 was netted through the bar, making a profit of more than $2,000 on the two departments. The sale of cigars yielded $7.801.08 and billiards increased the revenue by $6,879.20. Economic management also served to bring in good returns from the baths and bowling alleys, while the renting frooms to members produced the big sum of $27,120.59. The money received from renting of bicycle racks and profits from repairs exceeded the expenses of the wheelroom and salaries of the attendants, a result never achieved in the old cycle house at Sixtieth

That the club can afford to be liberal in its expenditures is evident from the main income derived from dues, which amounted to $142.-935.50, exclusive of initiation fees that totalled derived from dues, which almosthed to $142.35.50, exclusive of initiation fees that totaled more than $40,000. Altogether there has been a gain 250 resident members. The total membership at the time of the report was 3.648 divided as follows: Resident, 2.628; life, 403;

non-resident, 454; army and navy, 15; junior, 51, and honorary, 7.

The report of the athletic committee shows that $23,638.51 was expended during the year in the furtherance of the main object of the club. Of this amount $13,000 was for salaries of the eleven instructors in different branches and attendants in the gymnasium and at Traver's Island. The great success of the track and field team was obtained at a cost of $3,865.74.
The yachting department report shows a small profit and the other sports were maintained on the following outlay:

Bicycling, $450; baseball, $1,288.89; boxing, the following outlay:
Bicycling, $650; baseball, $1.288.89; boxing, $1.608.50; bowling, $258.81; fencing, $2,044.90; hand tennis, $22; hockey, $306.41; lawn tennis, $226.45; swimming, $571.27; skating, $198; trap shooting, $69.65; wrestling, $1,676.92.

The captain's report was particularly gratifying and showed that the club athletes have been more successful than ever before in championships and open competitions. A. C. Kraenzlein heads the list of winning athletes with 30 firsts and 6 seconds, a total of 168 points. The records of the other leading men are:

The result of the annual election on Tuesday night was announced to the members by the retiring President. Gen. Thomas L. Watson, early yesterday morning. The total vote cast was 620. Charles H. Sherrill, who was elected Captain, got 60d, the highest on the ticket. Charles L. Burnham, reflected Secretary, came next with 604, one more than Vice-President Albert E. Colfax received. President John R. Van Wormer received 508 votes and Treasurer Charles E. Goodhue 589. The fight to elect Walker S. Wilson entailed indiscriminate scratching of the candidates for two-year governors. The principal attack was made on Frank K. Hunter and Frederick M. Hausling. The regular ticket, published in The Sun yesterday was elected, with the exception of Hausling, who was beaten twelve votes by the independent candidate. Walter Wilson.

Suggestion for a New Board of Arbitration

In their efforts to reorganize professional baseball and to restore the sport in the confidence of the public the magnates of the National League may glean wholesome truths from the following statement made to a reporter of THE SUN yesterday by a man who has long been a baseball enthusiast:

"The present bunch of magnates do not carry weight with the public. Their business methods have done more to kill baseball than anything else. Take the National Board of Arbitration, for instance. It is the supreme court n baseball, and is made up of League Club owners. They try cases in which they are directly interested, and generally render decisions that are in their own favor. The Wrigley case was an excellent example of the way the board has been conducting uself for years. "If the magnates have reached a point where they can understand what the public demand and they are sincerely anxious to drag the national game out of the mire they will do well to enlist the services of men who have reputations that the public will respect if the National Board of Arbitration could be made up of such well-known business men as A. G. Spalding, J. Walter Spalding, E. E. Talcott, W. B. Wheeler, L. C. Krauthoff and A. G. Mills, baseball would command the respect of everybody. Men of this stamp would justly try all cases in dispute and would also give a tone of respectability to the League." directly interested, and generally render de-
